THE OPMA DIFFERENCE

Constant focus on the future and the shaping of the lodging industry

Controlling our own destiny through leadership initiatives and not simply relying on advocacy and secondary support roles

Targeted growth and strategy: Aggregating the most condo hotel rental inventory in the most popular vacation destinations.

Assisting our members in measuring and delivering their collective economic impact in the local markets they serve

Develop and introduce training programs that provide uniform messaging and that enhance the sales and service levels and the profitability of the membership

Minimize the number of suppliers in any product/service category translating into more significant long-term relationships with OPMA onsite managers
